Rogers Turns Out Fine Performance

Congressman Paul G. Rogers of West Palm Beach this year took the Congressional seat of his late father Dwight L. Rogers and turned in a freshman performance which did credit to his predecessor and to his District.

The young West Palm Beach legislator was assigned to the House Public Works Committee when he arrived in Washington in mid-January after a special election. He was assigned to the Subcommittee on Rivers and Harbors and the Subcommittee on Flood Control.

Rogers' maiden speech on the House floor resulted in one of his most outstanding accomplishments by obtaining restoration of funds for the Florida Flood Control Project which had been cut by the House Appropriations Committee.

Florida freshman, Dante Fascell of Miami, spearheaded the drive on the floor of the House to restore the flood control funds from $3,000,000 to $6,300,000.

Another major target of Rogers' activity this year was amendment of the Sugar Act to increase Florida and other domestic producers' share of the increasing U. S. Consumer market.

Rogers testified before the Agriculture Committee, as well as the Rules Committee, and passed by the House of Representatives.

Rogers introduced a measure to repeal the discriminatory travel tax on Caribbean, Mexican and Canadian travel from the United States. This legislation passed the House and, although it was not reported out by Rogers' bill, the results were accomplished.

Rogers was successful in his efforts to obtain acceptance by the House Conference of $1,577,000 for the establishment of (Continued on Page Two)

Local Post Office Begins "Address Conscious" Drive

A concentrated drive will be made by the local post office to make patrons "address conscious" according to George P. Farnall, postmaster. "A good 66 per cent of the mail received at this office is either incorrectly addressed or has no address on it at all," said Mr. Farnall.

"Don't place the burden of address correction on your local office—the city is too large now and we have too many employees who handle your mail who have learned to distribute mail by address only," he further added.

"Times were," he added, "when I and my two employees knew just how much those folks need help. I'll do it here's my donation."

That is the attitude of every one so far contacted in the effort.

All checks should be made to AMERICAN RED CROSS and all cash will be deposited in a special fund and sent directly to the disaster area. There will be no deductions for expense of administering the fund.

Mrs. Abbie Zumpf, Glades Chairman of Home Service for the Palm Beach County Chapter is organizing a local committee of ladies who will contact the public Saturday and Sunday giving it the opportunity to make whatever donation seems desirable.

Donations may be left at THE HERALD office. They will be forwarded daily to the disaster area.

As an expression of gratitude for the aid given to the Glades in the past, MAKE WHATEVER CONTRIBUTION YOU WISH.

It would be much better to have a thousand $5 donations than one of $5,000.

Mrs. R. V. Allison, Mrs. L. L. Pipes, Mrs. R. L. Pipes and Mrs. Tom Dooley are among Mrs. Zumpf's Committee so far appointed.

Mayor Walter Ashley says "We haven't been able to contact all the Commissioners. I feel certain that the City of Belle Glade will authorize a substantial donation for the aid of our sister communities, and I urge all who will to contribute."

The 1955 session of the legislature will be remembered not for the good things accomplished during the regular session, but more than likely for the reappointment battle and the resulting great cost to the taxpayers. Actually, the question is not small counties versus big counties or North Florida versus South Florida, but rather should we obey the constitution of our state or interpret it the way the Senate majority bloc says we must.

To those of us who believe in our constitution and who have stood up and said we will obey its wording, the question goes back even further to the problem facing the 13 original colonies. Should we have taxation without representation? To show you what I mean, look at these figures.

A present majority of the 38 senators are elected by only 16.3 per cent of our population. This means that regardless of how good a law is for the majority of our population of some three-and-one-half million people, representatives of only one-half million can prevent it from being enacted. This means further that too often selfish and personal political motives dictate what is or is not to be enacted. CC Warns Of False Promises On Baby "Contest" Photos

Residents of Belle Glade were warned this week by Edwina C. Young, Manager of the Chamber of Commerce, to beware of a new approach being used by an unscrupulous few who operate in the photographic portrait business.

Although she emphasized that the overwhelming majority of photographers in the Chamber of Commerce are completely reputable, Mrs. Young stated that according to the National Better Business Bureau, with which the local Chamber is affiliated, a certain small group of door-to-door photographic portrait salesmen are inducing mothers to give orders for portraits by falsely stating that they are associated with an advertising "contest" being run by Gerber's Baby Foods.

Lions Talk Football, Alcoholic Anonymous

Trouble Hotard announced to the Lions Wednesday that the Football Jamoree at Pahokee on Sept. 9 will include several sports and games.

This annual event was originated to keep the public informed of changes in football rules, using live teams in formations with plays carried in symbolize slow motion. Added features are to interest the public.

An Alcoholic Anonymous devotee told the Lions that the purpose of the organization is to "Achieve Sobriety." By a recitation of his own experience from the depths of desperation to alcoholism to a position of success in business and peace of mind, the speaker impressed his audience with the sincerity of purpose and effectiveness of the workings of the membership.

The best salesman for Alcoholic Anonymous is the membership—don't ever miss an opportunity to hear one if you have the privilege.

ARGUMENT AND FIGHT FATAL TO PRISONER

Walter Davis, 17, was killed Thursday morning at the Glades Prison Farm by Stanley Brown, 43, with a heavy hoe, according to an announcement by Superintendent Cliff Greene.

According to best evidence gathered, an argument between the two resulted in Brown whacking Davis over the head with the only weapon at hand—a weeding hoe—and literally "brainin'" him.

Davis was rushed to Pine Ridge Hospital in West Palm Beach, but died shortly after arriving there.

The County investigator is attempting to develop facts concerning any previous arguments between the two, and other details that led up to the most decisive action.

Davis was up since December 1954, from Pinellas County for forgery on a three-year sentence and Brown was in from Duval County for grand larceny.

Belle Glade's Waterworks A Million Dollar Value To The Community

Russell and Axon, engineers have notified the City that their report on study of a proposed sewerage plan for the City is ready for submission and consideration of the Commission.

A meeting with the City Commission immediately after the city election will be set up so that the proposal of the engineers may be studied.

The second of our waterworks who make all of our household water are missing a couple of times on account of our efficient fire department and the availability of water under pressure. There is quite a bit to be desired in this respect, though, for adequate sized water mains are missing in several of Belle Glade's fast growing sections. These deficiencies are known and remedy is included in plans by our (Continued on Page Eight)

ROGERS TURNS OUT

The Buckingham Weapons Employment Center at Ft. Myers. The eventual cost of this base will be approximately $33,000,000 and will have a complement of approximately 3,000 men, which should bring an annual pay rate of between $8,000,000 and $7,000,000 to the community.

When the Civil Aeronautics Administration communication, weather and station in Vero Beach was scheduled for abandonment, Rogers got busy and, in cooperation with General Holland and Smith, brought about the retention of this service.

ice important not only to Vero Beach but for all of South Florida.

Another achievement was the introduction and passage of a bill to permit the recovery of land at Punta Rassa, Florida for Lee County. This tract of land had been given to the Government for a Coast Guard station, but the plan was later abandoned and Rogers' bill provided that this land be given back to the County without charge to the County.

One of the Congressmen's main interests has been economy in government and working for any measure which will bring about a more efficient government. He introduced a measure to provide for joint sponsorship of House bills which is now permitted in the Senate but not in the House. On one bill alone the savings would amount to over $20,000.

Another measure which Rogers feels would develop greater economy is his bill to require recording of Congressmen's votes on appropriations bills. It is Rogers' feeling that if Congressmen were recorded every time they voted for an appropriation that many more economies would be effected.

Rogers' Sixth District fared exceptionally well in having funds allocated in Rivers and Harbors projects—such as the dredging and cleaning work to be done on New River at Ft. Lauderdale for which efforts have been made for the last ten years. Rogers obtained $89,000 to begin this work. Other allocations for the 6th District were: $10,000 for Port Everglades survey, $4,400 for a preliminary examination of the Ft. Pierce Harbor, $7,500 for the continuation of the navigation study of the Gulf Coast Shrimp Boat Harbors which includes Gordon Pass, $2,800 for a navigation survey at Everglades Harbor, and $10,000 for the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District, of which $5,000 is included for a situation study of the St. Lucie canal. Language was put in the Senate Committee report stating that next year funds should be budgeted for the East Coast Waterway and it is believed that this will become a reality in the next fiscal year.

Congressman Rogers also testified before the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations in behalf of the forest lands of Florida of which a great number are in the Sixth District. He asked the Senate Sub-committee on Interior and Related Agencies that an additional $300,000 be appropriated for the slash-and-burn pine research management work being carried on in the South, and for the retention of funds for fire prevention measures of our natural resources. These measures passed the House.

Rogers was able to obtain necessary funds to work out the schooling of the Indian children between Glades and Okechobee Counties. The transportation cost of $1,620 were obtained for Okechobee County which relieved Glades County of making this payment since the children had to be transported from Glades to Okechobee County Schools.

Rogers has been interested in doing everything possible to combat "Red Tide" and receive the assurances of Secretary of the Interior McKay that there will be no slackening by the Department in its efforts to end the destructive menace of the "Red Tide."

Rogers will open his District office in the Harvey Building in West Palm Beach around September 1st. The Congressman plans to completely tour his district in order to have an opportunity to discuss the happenings of the first session of the 84th Congress with the people of his district and to be available to discuss any problems they may have.

Collins Appoints James Ball To New Commission

Governor Leroy Collins Thursday appointed three men to the Water Resources Study Commission created by the 1955 state legislature, bringing the number on the commission to a total of seven.

Appointed by Governor Collins were: Byron E. Herlong, as chairman, B. W. Helveston, Jr., and James A. Ball, Jr., cattleman and farmer of Belle Glade. Those already appointed to this commission are all members of the State Legislature. They are: Sen. Carlton of Wauchula and Rep. Douglas of Bonifay and Rep. Surles of Polk County and Westberry of Duval.

The seven man group will make recommendations to the 1957 legislature on any laws or judges necessary for conservation and handling of Florida's water supply. The commission which will go out of existence after making its report to the legislature, will hold public hearings on water matters throughout the state and consult with water-using interests and industries before offering its recommendations.

CC WARNS OF FALSE

terprises in America. Many human values and sentiments are involved in photographic portraits. This fact, which makes the reputable photographer and his studio so welcome in the community, is also the source of some difficult problems.

"At the present time, representatives of a small minority of 'fringe operations' are conducting door-to-door sales campaigns throughout the nation, in which the salesmen claim that they represent Gerber's Baby Foods. They state that this nationally-known firm is running a photographic contest to find cute babies for use in its advertising.

"Many mothers welcome the photographic salesmen in to their homes on the strength of this statement. The fast-talking salesmen then offer their 'professional' opinion that the beautiful little child in the home has an excellent chance to appear in the company's advertising campaigns. They show fine 'sample' photographs, which they claim were taken by their studio. They sometimes say that the contest is about to expire, and that the mother will have to act immediately to enter her child. "Pictures are then taken of the baby, and the mother signs a contract for the purchase of prints.

"Then, bit by bit, the disillusionment comes. Sometimes the photos never arrive at all, despite repeated letters to the studio. Sometimes the letters are returned by the Post Office, since the studio itself does not exist. If the studio actually exists, and if the photos do arrive, they may be weeks or months late. Often they are of inferior quality, and frequently they are seriously defective. In almost every case, the price is far above the rates being charged by reputable studios and firms in the area.

"If the mother decides to check the matter further, she is in for more disillusionment. She will find that Gerber's Baby Foods is not running any contest involving the use of baby photographs in their advertising, and that the firm is not connected in any way with the activities and claims of these unscrupulous photographers.

"This particular version of the 'fake contest' approach is the latest in a long line of tricks and gimmicks which these unscrupulous photographers have been using for years to capitalize on natural family pride and human attachments. Other gimmicks include promises of 'free' photographs, and of great special bargains.

"Also, by contrast with reputable photographic studios, these firms often keep poor files and records, frequently resulting in loss of proofs, or loss of precious negatives entrusted to them by a customer for enlarging or printing.

"Sometimes the customer is induced to buy a highly over-priced frame along with his prints. When a photograph is offered 'free', the customer usually is required to purchase a high priced frame.

"The net result of all these variations of the racket is the same: the customer, who thought he was entering an exciting contest or taking advantage of a great bargain, finds that instead he is paying an exorbitant price for merchandise which, if it arrives at all, is frequently of poor quality.

"Customers should exercise caution in dealing with any photographic firm or representative with whom they are not familiar. When in doubt, a check should be made with the Chamber of Commerce to determine if the firm is known in the local business community. No contract should be signed until full terms and conditions are clear to the signer.

"Legitimate firms will be glad to explain their offers, terms and contracts fully to their customers. Vigilance on the part of the buyer is the most effective means for the elimination of this long-standing racket. Above all, when considering the purchase of photographs, deal with a firm of known reliability."

GLADES LAUNDRY OFFERS MODERN STA-NU PROCESS

Equipment was installed last week at Glades Laundry and Dry Cleaners for using the Nationally advertised Sta-Nu Finishing Process in their plant, a modern cleaning treatment that will "make your clothes look like new again."

"We're thrilled about this new processing," was the comment of Wes Jones, owner and manager. "Our customers are quick to notice the improved appearance of their cleaned garments."

The Sta-Nu Process is a mechanical and chemical operation technique which automatically feeds and homogenizes textile finishing agents into steam used in the finishing operation. It restores to fabrics the original texture and body found in new clothes—and the nice part—no extra charge is made to the customer on this improved type dry cleaning service.

Sta-Nu was primarily developed for the preservation of textile fabrics. During the experimental tests, Sta-Nu showed definite affinity for detergents, fabrics, consequently it was further advanced for use by dry cleaners.

Most people interested and acquainted the public with this new process, Glades Laundry is giving coupons to each customer, which with a small cash payment will purchase genuine Wilshire Steak Knives—which you will be proud to own.

Bible School Program Features Flower Cross

A Flower Cross, assembled by Vacation Bible School students, will feature the main feature of their church construction.

For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. (John 3:16).

Read I John 4:13-21.

On a recent radio program in which various problems of men and women were presented, the question came up as to whether jealousy was an expression of love. One person said that a husband who loved his wife would naturally be jealous of his wife seemed to favor another man. Another person stated that jealousy was a form of possessiveness; one does not want to risk losing what belongs to one—in this case, the wife's affection.

How different God's love is! His is a giving love; He does not want merely to possess.

If we would know if we truly love someone, let us measure ourselves by God's love of love, a love that is willing to give to all, for husband, for wife, for children. Let us pray that in our hearts may be the desire to give rather than the desire to possess. Then shall we really know what our religion of love is.

God of love, Thou didst give us Thy Son as the supreme expression of Thy love for us. Help us to love Thee that we may want to love with Christlike love each of those around us. In His name. — Amen.

FLORIDA'S 38 SENATORS

Pensacola and Jacksonville, and therefore all these years this area has controlled and held the balance of power in our state. The trend in our population of course since the early 1920's has been to the Southern part of the state, however this group has long dedicated themselves to holding on to controlling the Senate. They can no longer justify their position other than to say that it is impossible to re-apportion the Senate on the basis of population and therefore, it is fair to inject other considerations such as area, location, and political problems.
The bill which we have fought for as fair reapportionment gives South Florida or the more populous areas a net gain of two Senate seats. Even under this bill a majority of the Senate will still be elected by only 19.5 per cent of the population. You may well ask is the cost worthwhile for such a small gain. The answer is yes as it narrows the existing gap between the present majority bloc and the minority to the point that on many statewide issues benefitting our area and the more populous areas our chances of passing beneficial legislative will be increased. Also it is important that we insist that the legislature abide by the constitution and that the will of a selfish few shall not prevail. To me the intent of the constitution is very clear. It says and I quote: "that the legislature shall reapportion the senate into 38 senatorial districts nearly as equal in population as practicable." This is to be done every ten years based on the last official census. It is therefore mandatory under our constitution that we perform this duty in 1955. Just think how wide a gap our population will be in 1960, at the present rate of growth, and if nothing is done by 1965, less than ten per cent of the population will control the senate. It is foolish for the small counties to fear the large counties and this argument is only a smoke screen to keep the status quo. For myself, I took an oath to uphold the constitution of the state of Florida, and there is no other course than to say to the small group of selfish individuals that you must do the fair and honorable thing.

Florida is such a big state in area with a tremendous growth in population and that in itself makes it most difficult for us to understand the other sections of the state. We have different customs and even different climates within our borders. A remark made by a representative from a West Florida County is significant of some of their thinking. This gentleman said, "Why do we need all this progress. I like things just the way they are." Whether you want them or not there are over 1500 families moving to Florida every week. Florida cannot stand still even if we wanted and we cannot allow our progress to be stymied and controlled by a small segment of our representation. Yes, we must have equitable reapportionment or say to the rest of the country we do not believe in our constitution.

address. He may direct that all his mail be placed in the box by filing a change of address order with the carrier. The same holds true for a patron who rents a box and wants his mail delivered, but his mail comes addressed to the box.

The carriers have been instructed to either sell the patron on the idea of receiving mail as addressed or else obtaining a written order to the contrary. The cooperation of the public is requested in this matter since the carriers have also been instructed that failure to comply with orders will subject him to a reprimand.

The carriers have also been instructed to courteously inform such patrons of the minimum requirements necessary for city delivery service, ask the patron to comply, or obtain a change of address officially.

Heavy mailers of local mail are encouraged to submit their mailing lists for corrections of existing addresses periodically. A charge of 1 cent per each correction, with a minimum charge of 25 cents is made for this service.

All residents who live within carrier distance are encouraged to have house numbers properly placed and of a kind that can be readily seen from a distance, whether they receive mail through carrier, or not. This will help the carrier in determining other addresses on the route. Those residents who have house numbers up and have pointed out them are requested to repaint the numbers in a color that will contrast with the house, or have them replaced by some that can be seen, and above all, to place them where they can be seen from the street.
"Remember," postmaster Farnall finally stated, "we are interested only in your mailing address. That is what should appear on your mail."

Brown Farm Precinct Removed From Polls

Palm Beach County's political barometer—Brown's Farm which because of its size and quick vote has gained national recognition, has been removed from the county's polling places. The county commission this week, on recommendation of County Registrar Deane Upthegrove, combined Brown's Farm and Precinct 38 setting the American Legion Hall in Belle Glade as the new polling place.

Upthegrove said registration at Brown's Farm has dwindled to about three voters and it is no longer feasible to use it as a polling place.

In the past, voters at Brown's Farm took pride in being the first in the county to report on election day. Residents turned out early and the polls usually closed a few minutes after they had opened, with all voters on hand to cast their ballots.

Political predictions were made on the returns from Brown's Farm—the count there was supposed to indicate the trend across the county. In late years the count at this Glades precinct has not always been in line with the rest of the county, state and nation.

During national and state election's Brown's Farm gained national recognition and was always one of the first to report. News services often sent special crews to the precinct to give on the spot coverage to the voting there.

Officially, Brown's Farm was known as precinct 41, a designation that will be erased from the county's books in the future.

MRS. WALL'S FATHER DIES IN CHICAGO

Mrs. William Wall of Indian Mound Park left Sunday by plane for Chicago where she was called by the death of her father, Morris Mutchak, age 86. She was met in Chicago by her brother, A. L. Mutchak of Belle Glade, who was there on business at the time of her father's death.

Mrs. Wall and Mr. Mutchak are the only living children surviving. Four grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren also survive.

Experiment Station Now Has New Report On Corn And Beans Field Trials

Two mimeographed reports have recently been issued by the Everglades Experiment Station and are available to those interested in the variety performance of field corn and beans during the past year. The report for 1954-55, entitled "Horticultural Trials with Bush Snap Beans Varieties, Strains and Breeding Lines. 1954-55 Season," by Emil A. Wolf, contains the results of last year's snap bean trials. It represents the detailed performance of 37 commercial and experimental varieties and breeding lines planted during the spring as well as the performance of various varieties planted during the preceding fall. This report is the most recent of a series which has been available each year on the results of bean variety trials conducted at the Station.

Mimeo Report 56-2 entitled "Results of Research on Field Corn and Popcorn in the Everglades area—1953" by Victor E. Green, Jr., gives the detailed performance of 14 varieties and strains of field corn planted in 1953. This report contains information contained in Mimeo Report 55-4 issued last year. It represents work conducted at the Station in cooperation with USDA and other Experiment Stations and seed companies. Varieties are tested for their growth and yield performance, resistance to diseases and resistance to insect damage. The results also contain some information on the performance of popcorn varieties.

Persons desiring copies of these Mimeo Reports may obtain them through their County Agricultural Agents.

Continue Your Education In Uncle Sam's Marines

Marines are now being taught about the Russian war machine, according to M-Sgt. Steve Seabolt, local Marine Corps recruiter.

In a series of lessons designed to acquaint the hard-charging Leathernecks with facts about Soviet military power, the Corps made available to Marines through the facilities of the Marine Corps Institute. The lessons include such aspects as the history and development of the military staff and a survey of the USSR. There is no enrollment fee or charge for Institute courses and all Marines are encouraged to take advantage of this free educational opportunity.

The Institute also offers a wide variety of other subjects ranging from criminal investigation and languages to meteorology and shorthand.

Citizen Marine members of organized Marine reserve units are also eligible for free Institute courses. College credits may be awarded Marines who successfully complete many of these courses.

Young men who are planning on enlisting in either the regular or reserve component of the Marine Corps and who wish to continue with their education, are urged to contact M-Sgt. Seabolt for additional details. It is possible to earn a high school diploma through the Institute. At present, applicants are being accepted for immediate enlistment in the Marine Corps.

ALLISON URGES CATTLE FEEDS AS GLADES CROP

At their regular weekly meeting held Aug. 19, commissioners of the Port of Palm Beach gave close study to a letter from Dr. R. V. Allison, fiber technologist at the Glades Experiment Station, concerning northeast market, significance for dehydrated feeds from the Glades area.

Writing in response to Port Authority acknowledgment to him for his warm cooperation during the recent record-breaking export shipment of 807 bales of ramie here, Dr. Allison stated, in part: "To my way of thinking the shipment of an agricultural product of this nature (ramie and other fiber crops) in such a quantity might well be significant of things to come if this area develops agriculturally as it should."

"Reference is, of course, not only to ramie and perhaps other fiber crops, but also to such other products as dehydrated feeds, the production of which in this area has such tremendous potentialities not only in supplying local Florida needs, the amount of 12 or 15 million dollars per year but also with respect to entering upon the much greater market along the seaboard of the northeast where it is already in existence a demand of upwards of many millions of dollars per year. While we have had in mind and talked about this latter project for a long time in practically all of the details involved, very little has been done in a practical way on it, as you probably know so well."

"However, if it should develop it seems to me that water transportation would be the most logical means of getting such high tonnage materials to the great milksheds, porksheds and poultrysheds of the northeast."

Dr. Allison, an honor graduate with a BS-BA degree from the University of Florida was commissioned in the Army through ROTC last June.

Methodist Circles Meet At Back Home

The Ruth Naomi and Mary Martha Circles of Community Methodist Church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. D. Beck with Mrs. H. V. Dras in charge of devotions on Symbols of WSCS.

The program, "15 Years of Progress of WSCS," was given by Mrs. George Farnall.

A short business session was conducted by the chairman of the two circles, Mrs. H. D. Beck and Mrs. Ralph Kidder, and refreshments served by the hostesses at the close of the meeting.

MISS BARBARA MYATT RECEIVES M.A. DEGREE

Miss Myatt received her M.A. Degree Aug. 13, from Florida Southern University, Tallahassee, where she and her mother resided the past two years. She was formerly a staff member of South Bay School.

Edward M. Lively, Savings Bonds Chairman for Belle Glade released figures on the purchases of Series E and H, U.S. Savings Bonds in Florida during July. They amounted to $8,031,108 which includes a credit of $363,026 for purchases by armed forces and civil service employees paid out of central disbursing offices. Palm Beach County sales were $249,575.

"The state sales figure," Mr. Lively said, "for the first time in more than a year falls barely short of the amount purchased in the corresponding month a year prior. July figures were off 4.8 per cent from July 1954 but purchases for the seven months to date, show a very robust 24.6 per cent improvement over the same period. This compares with the national gain of 13 per cent."

"Florida now has accounted for 64.5 per cent of its year's quota and is well ahead of the normal sales percentage expected during the seven month period. Last year at the same point only 53.2 per cent of Florida's nearly $5 million smaller quota had been reported."

"At the end of June, Florida ranked 7th in the nation in the per cent of quota already in the record books," he concluded.

EVERYTHING is not hard work in the Belle Glade High Band as indicated by Dickie Dupure, ninth grade, first trombone, and Bobby Willis, tenth grade, second trombone.

Prison Farm is also served wholesome; two migratory labor camps are served in the same capacity, and South Bay City is furnished water for its customers.

All bonds due and interest payments have been paid on time and there is sufficient cash on hand to pay one-fourth of all outstanding obligations. There is also a healthy operation bank account.

Belle Glade's water system is an asset and seems to be ready for whatever emergencies might occur.

RECREATION COMMISSION PROMISED ACTION SOON

After a motion to engage a fiscal agent was lost, the City Fathers agreed to ask for bids from three additional bond holders between now and the next Commission meeting.

It was agreed that some definite action will be taken at that time concerning providing money with which the Commission might work.

The City also appropriated $500 for the use of the Recreation Commission until further monies are made available.

An okay was given to the leasing of the Rambler building and grounds for the use of a teenage program sponsored by the Recreation Commission.
